i) Definitions of terms used in this Annex:

Terminology	Definition

All references to IUL products in this Annex, unless otherwise specified, refer to IUL products offered to professional investors in Hong Kong.
Professional Investor (“PI”)	means “professional investor” as defined in Schedule 1 to the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571) (“SFO”) and the Securities and Futures (Professional Investor) Rules (Cap. 571D) (“PI Rules”).
Mechanism, Components	“Mechanism” refers to the formula-based mechanism that determines the actual crediting rate based on the performance of underlying index(ices), subject to the discretionary components (“Component”) such as floor, cap and participating rate in the design of the Mechanism.
Index Account	means any account of an IUL product in which the actual crediting interest rate is determined using the Mechanism and the performance of relevant index(ices).
Budget	for the purpose of capturing the performance of the relevant index(ices), means the budget for the authorized insurer to implement derivatives, investment or a reinsurance strategy, which in turn determines the Components of the Mechanism.

ii) Requirements on IUL products:

Area	Item	Relevant section of GL	Application of requirements to IUL products
Product Design	1	Para 5.1 of GL15	During the product design stage, authorized insurer should carry out due diligence to ensure that the product meets the “fair treatment of customers” principle. Authorized insurer should cover areas such as level of fees and charges, the Components, and the choice of index. For the choice of index, it would be questionable whether the “fair treatment of customers” principle is met if the Index Account links to an index which is only recognized by or constructed by the authorized insurer, or if fees and charges are levied or embedded in the index.

Area	Item	Relevant section of GL	Application of requirements to IUL products
			Before adding or removing any choice of index available to an IUL product, authorized insurer must ensure the “fair treatment of customers” principle is met and the policy remains suitable for policy holder.
	2	Para 5.2 of GL15	The minimum requirement on death benefit, being 105% of the account value, is not applicable to IUL products.
	3	Paras 5.3 to 5.5 of GL15	The requirements on fees and charges, sustainability of the product and the “fair treatment of customers” principle apply to IUL products.
Governance	4	Section 2 of Appendix 1 of GL16 ¹ , Section 2 of Appendix 2 of GL16	The IA expects an authorized insurer to have a corporate policy setting out detailed design for its IUL products, and in particular, how the amount of Budget and Component are determined.
	5	Section 2 of Appendix 1 of GL16	The IA expects the Appointed Actuary and the Board of the authorized insurer to observe the relevant requirements in relation to IUL products. The Board is ultimately responsible for ensuring fair treatment of customers. As such, the Board should decide whether the Appointed Actuary should submit regular report to the Board or its delegated committee recommending the change in Components. Such decision should be based on Board’s assessment that is proportionate to the nature, scale and complexity of the IUL business, and the assessment should be carried out at least annually.
Provision of Adequate and Clear Information, and Disclosure on Non-Guaranteed Benefits	6	Paras 6.5 to 6.9 of GL16	The requirements on provision of adequate and clear product information and key product risks apply to IUL products. Where applicable, the information disclosure requirements relating to policy loan facility and collateral assignment prescribed in para 6.7 and para 6.8 also apply to IUL products.
	7	Paras 4.1(a)(i) to 4.1(a)(iv) of	The disclosure requirements relating to non-guaranteed benefits apply to IUL products.

¹ The provisions in GL16 referenced in this Annex are those which are specifically pertinent to IUL insurance business. The requirements in these provisions should form part of an effective governance and control system that an authorized insurer is expected to have in place in respect of its IUL business. Compliance with these requirements will be taken into account in assessing the fitness and properness of controllers, directors and key persons in control functions with responsibility for relevant aspects of the insurer’s governance and control systems on its IUL insurance business.

Area	Item	Relevant section of GL	Application of requirements to IUL products
		Appendix 1 of GL16	At the point of sale, authorized insurers should also highlight details of the account(s) available to the policy holder, arrangement or options to transfer among accounts, details of the Mechanism, how the Budget and Components are determined ² under the terms of the IUL policy, and the relevant restrictions on change of policy ownership.
	8	Para 4.1(a)(v) of Appendix 1 of GL16, para 4.2 of Appendix 2 of GL16	Para 4.1(a)(v) of Appendix 1 of GL16 refers to the disclosure requirement on fulfillment ratios and is not applicable to IUL products. The disclosure of crediting interest rate history is optional for IUL products. However, if an authorized insurer decides to disclose such history, it must disclose the history of all product series of IUL products and maintain the same level of disclosure going forward.
	9	Para 4.3 of Appendix 2 of GL16, para 4.2(j) of GL26	The requirement on disclosure of key risks applies to IUL products. Authorized insurers are reminded to disclose the lapsation risk due to zero account value, especially if, after policy issuance, further payment of premium is planned but flexible and the authorized insurer does not incentivize the policy holder to pay such premium³. Licensed insurance intermediaries have a duty to disclose and explain to customers the risks associated with IUL products.
Suitability Assessment, Advice to Customers, Fair	10	Paras 4.2(a) to 4.2(d) of GL26, para 6.1, para 6.3	Authorized insurers and licensed insurance intermediaries may opt out of the FNA process required by GL26 in carrying on their IUL business. They must, however ⁴ :

² For the avoidance of doubt, while the investment strategy should be disclosed, it is optional to quantify the linkage, if any, between the amount of Budget and return of the investment in the disclosure.

	11	Para 4.2(e) of GL26	The requirement to perform FNA and RPQ for top-up investment does not apply to IUL products. However, authorized insurers and licensed insurance intermediaries should ensure that the policy holder remains qualified as a PI before processing the relevant top-up ⁹ investment.

However, they are still required to assess diligently during the sales process whether the risk return profile, characteristics and risk exposures of the recommended IUL products are suitable for the customer by taking into account the customer’s circumstances (e.g. the customer’s risk tolerance, investment knowledge and experience etc.). As general guidance, authorized insurers and licensed insurance intermediaries should not opt out of the RPQ process required by GL26 when dealing with vulnerable customers for IUL products, unless there are exceptional justifications for doing so.

Refer to remark no.3 on circumstances that payment of premium is considered as incentivized by the authorized insurer.

			Authorized insurers should determine the non-unit reserve of the IUL insurance business in accordance with Insurance (Valuation and Capital) Rules (Cap 41R). For the purpose of rule 15(4) of such Rules, unit reserve of IUL insurance business is zero. Authorized insurers are also reminded to strictly observe the requirements under sections 21B, 22 and 23 of the IO regarding segregation and application of assets for IUL insurance business, taking into account that IUL products belong to Class C (linked long term) business.
Specific Requirements for Benefit Illustration Documents	32	Appendix I of GL28	The “specific requirements for benefit illustration documents of ILAS policies” apply to IUL policies, except that the scenarios of net annual rate of return of 0%, 3%, 6% and 9% should be replaced by two scenarios of crediting interest rate: Scenario 1: A crediting interest rate that is equal to or not higher than the existing floor¹³ of or minimum crediting interest rate, and Scenario 2: A crediting interest rate that is equal to or not higher than the existing cap of or maximum crediting interest rate, or if such rate is not specified by the policy, a rate that is equal to or not higher than 9% p.a.. It would be questionable whether the benefit illustration is adequate and clear in substance, if there is a massive gap between the crediting interest rates adopted in the scenarios available in the benefit illustration. As such, additional scenario(s) of crediting interest rate can be shown provided that: i) The crediting interest rate is not lower than that of scenario 1 and is not higher than that of scenario 2, and

¹³ In case an IUL policy offers multiple accounts with multiple floors, minimums, caps or maximums, the relevant authorized insurer may refer to the weighted average of such amount calculated by reference to the choice of allocation percentages among different accounts. Account that does not link to any index should also be taken into consideration if there is a significant allocation to such account in the policy. The allocation among accounts should be clearly disclosed in the benefit illustration document.

An illustrative example on how weighted average is calculated is shown below, assuming:

- 50% allocation on account A with crediting interest rate of 8%, and
- 50% allocation on account B with crediting interest rate of 9%

On the merit of simplicity, the weighted average is 8.5% based on the assumption of constant allocation.

			ii) The crediting interest rate should not be interpreted as “current assumed basis” that is based on the authorized insurer’s best estimate, and the authorized insurer or the licensed insurance intermediaries should not mislead the customer that the crediting interest rate represents a projection or estimation of the future returns. For the avoidance of doubt: i) The numerical illustration should take into account the fees and charges imposed by the authorized insurer, and they must not be lower than the current scale of fees and charges, and ii) Authorized insurer should ensure that the wordings and terminologies are accurate and reflect the nature of the IUL products.
Supplementary Illustration	33	Section 6 of GL28	The requirement on supplementary illustration applies to IUL products.
Green light process and submission requirement	34	Supplementary note of GL15	For the avoidance of doubt, other than the example on how commission should be pro-rated for the purpose of Item 25, the requirements specified in the “ Note on the Green Light Process for Assessment of Investment-Linked Assurance Scheme (“ILAS”) Products against Standards in Guideline on Underwriting Class C Business (GL15) ”, including the requirement to submit product documents to the IA, do not apply to IUL products.
